Arrested for Libel.
Justice Toomey yesterday issued warrants for the arrest of M. J. Powers and Charles Calton, of the Mahanoy City Manufacturing Company, on a charge of libel preferred by Morris Moses, of town. Each of the accused furnished $1,000 bail before Justice May, at Mahanoy City. Moses recently conducted an industry in town under the name of the Shenandoah Shirt Manufacturing Company. He consolidated with Powers and Calton and became an equal partner in and president and manager of the company. After doing business five weeks under the consolidation, Moses concluded to leave and, he alleges, under a power of attorney he commenced making collections of debts due the company to get out the $200 he had paid in. Soon after Powers and Calton caused his arrest, alleging that he illegally collected and appropriated money due the company. He is now under $1,000 bail. Moses now alleges that after the arrest Powers and Calton wrote to one M. Smegelesky telling him to send his check for goods direct to the company, as Moses had been arrested for stealing. It is also alleged that the parties also wrote to one M. Wolowitz, telling him to send his check for goods direct to the company as Moses had been arrested for embezzlement. Moses says he will have M. M. Burke, Esq., enter a civil suit on Monday for $3,000 damages.

THE LICENSE COURT.

West Mahanoy Township Licenses Granted Yesterday Afternoon.

The committee appointed by the Borough Council of Mahanoy City appeared before Judge Rechtel yesterday and presented the resolutions adopted by that body favoring the granting of licenses of the Kaiser Brewing Company that have been remonstrated against. Judge Rechtel stated that there was uncontradicted testimony of violation of the law against some of the applicants; that he was a sworn officer, and that the law forbids the court doing just what they were prayed to do. "We feel very keenly the position we are placed in," continued the court. "I have a personal acquaintance with a number of the petitioners and have the greatest respect for them, but in every case but one, (Quirk) the applicants charged with violation of the law, failed to take the stand to deny the allegations; there is uncontradicted evidence of selling liquor on Sunday and to minors." The court concluded that it dispensed attempts to blackmail, and denounced it as infamous, but intimated that under the testimony the court's duty was plain, and after a consultation with Judge Pershing a decision will be rendered.

The Lakeside hotel application was also heard, for which Richard F. Coogan, the present tenant, and Loren E. Clark are rival applicants. Exceptions have been filed against both. M. M. Burke, Esq., represented Coogan and stated that his client took possession of the house two years ago at the request of the Lakeside Land and Improvement Co. that he put improvements on the house costing $800 or $900, and that all they ask is that he be granted the license, and that he will then sell; this in order that he may have an opportunity to realize sufficient funds for the money he has expended. Clark claims the premises were leased to him beginning February 1st, and that he was willing to pay Coogan a fair price.

William Neiswender and John Dalton, of town, received their license, as did also the following in West Mahanoy township: Daniel Toland, John W. Connelly, Lewis Bender, Matthew Dunlap, Daniel F. Grow, William Wolantus, Joseph Reese, Elizabeth Ryan, Anthony Munley, William Wilkinson, P. J. Ferguson, George W. Johnson.

The license at Tumbling Run, remonstrated against, was granted.
